

Capability Matrix

Did you know that...with Capability Matrix you can assess, manage, and develop the capabilities and skills in your organisation?

Dear Head of Management:

We know that outstanding performance and talent is what you're looking for. But what can you do for your people? Where should you target additional training? What kind of support can help your company achieve top performance 110% of the time? Capability Matrix can assess which skills, people, and departments need the most support. Capability Matrix can do it all for you!

Capability Matrix offers you a way to assess, manage, and develop the capabilities of your people.

It's not only about the success you have now—it's about the ultimate goals that you're capable of reaching. With Capability Matrix you can create online capability analysis surveys, measure skills against national standards, tailor the system to fit your organisation, and much more.

Your employees can spot any gaps in their knowledge through easy-to-use skill gap assessments. You get accurate management reports telling you how the skills and talents in your organisation are growing. What do your people know? How can they improve? Training opportunities are available to help your people get the skills to reach their full potential after each assessment.

Capability Matrix is available for your own corporate intranet or as a secure hosted service on the web. Find out more about what Capability Matrix can do for you. Try it out today. Contact our sales team today and request a Capability Matrix information pack or demonstration. We will get you what you need with the help of Capability Matrix.
